Krueger to Lead Public Policy Team at Georgia Chamber

The Georgia Chamber of Commerce has hired John Krueger as Senior Vice President of Public Policy. In this role, he will be responsible for the research and development of public policy positions and materials on issues important to the Georgia Chamber.

Krueger brings nearly 20 years experience in public policy at both state and federal levels. He most recently served as a regional public affairs consultant in Atlanta to AT&T during which time he assisted with the AT&T-BellSouth merger as well as the company's enactment of its legislative priorities in the Southeast region.

Prior to his move to Atlanta, Krueger spent time in Washington, D.C. as a government affairs consultant representing clients before the U.S. Congress. Previous to those efforts, he served on the staffs of two state senators in Austin, Texas and managed the successful enactment of more than 40 pieces of legislation on a wide range of policies. His career began in Washington, D.C. as Press Secretary for Congressman F. James Sensenbrenner, Jr., of Wisconsin.

The Georgia Chamber is the grassroots voice of business, vigorously representing its diverse membership in the public policy arena. As it constantly works to protect Georgia's enviable pro-business environment, the Georgia Chamber remains mindful of its mission to keep the state economically prosperous, educationally competitive and environmentally responsible.
